

125th anniversary of SA women's suffrage Design Competition 2018

Are you into drawing, design or graphics? Constantly doodling on your notebook? Great at coming up with fun tag lines? Then you could be just the creative person we are looking for!

In December 2019, South Australia will celebrate the 125th anniversary of legislation that enabled women in South Australia – for the first time anywhere in Australia – to vote in general elections and to stand for Parliament. The Office for Women is holding a design competition and is looking for a graphic element and a tag line (5 words or less) that could be used to promote events and initiatives that support this anniversary.

This is a great opportunity to learn more about how women won the vote in South Australia, and to get creative with a graphic and tag line that captures the theme of 'celebrating the past to renew the future'.

Brief – what we are looking for

- A strong graphic or design that reflects and celebrates the achievements of women's suffrage in South Australia. The winning design will capture the strenuous work that South Australian women put into gaining the vote, with the graphic to potentially be incorporated into promotional materials in the lead up to and during the 2019 celebrations.
- The competition is open to any interpretation and style of design.
- The design must be flexible enough to be used across various formats and media.
- Do not incorporate any text headings or logos in with the graphic.
- The suffragist colours of gold and purple must be used.
- A short tag line (5 words or less) that encapsulates the spirit of the anniversary and the theme 'celebrating the past to renew the future'.

Criteria

Applicants must be residents of South Australia.

Why Gold and Purple?

Golden yellow – symbolising enlightenment, illumination and intellect, and is historically associated with the suffragist movement in South Australia. Its origin is not known, but a gold ribbon tied up the great petition urging Parliament to give women the vote.

Purple – which signifies reverence and dignity, was associated with the British suffragette struggle of the early 20th century.

How to apply

Applications will be open from 17 September 2018 to 4 November 2018, and can be submitted via the online entry form or emailed by midnight 4 November.

Submission details:

- Online entry form submissions can be uploaded in PDF, JPG, PNG or TIFF format at 300 dpi, with a maximum file size of 5MB.
- Provide a rationale/short statement explaining your design (maximum 250 words).
- Email submissions must be sent to: SAsuffrage125@sa.gov.au with 'Design competition – 125th Anniversary of Women's Suffrage' in the subject line.
 - Please include your name, address and phone number in the body of the email.
 - Artwork is to be attached to the email in PDF, JPEG or TIFF format at 300 dpi at A4 size, with a maximum file size of 5MB.

Winning Entry

The winning graphic and tag line will potentially be used during the program of activities that celebrate the anniversary of SA women's suffrage in 2019.

Terms and Conditions

1. Entries open 9am Monday 17 September, 2018.
2. Entry is limited to people currently living, working or studying in the state of South Australia.
3. Office for Women staff or judges of this competition are not eligible to enter.
4. All designs must be original artwork.
5. By entering the competition, entrants agree that they are the originator of the artwork.
6. Entrants must register their entry before midnight, Sunday 4 November, 2018 by filling in the entry form.
7. Incomplete or indecipherable entries will be deemed invalid.
8. Artwork can be submitted via the entry form or via email:
 - Online entry form submissions can be uploaded in PDF, JPG, PNG or TIFF format at 300 dpi, with a maximum file size of 5MB.
 - Email submissions must be sent to SAuffrage125@sa.gov.au with '125th Anniversary of SA Women's Suffrage' in the subject line. Please include your name, address and phone number in the body of the email. Artwork is to be attached to the email in PDF, JPEG or TIFF format at 300 dpi at A4 size, with a maximum file size of 5MB.
9. The personal information requested on the entry form is being collected by the Office for Women for the purpose of announcing and contacting the winner. The personal information will be used solely by the Office for Women for the above primary purpose or directly related purposes. The entrant/s understand that the personal information provided is for the purpose of the competition and that he or she may apply to the Office for Women for access to and/or amendment of the information. Requests for access and or correction should be made to the Office for Women by calling (08) 8303 0961.
10. No entries will be accepted after the closing date.
11. Entrants are permitted to submit more than one (1) entry.
12. Each entry must be registered online or emailed separately.
13. Entries may not be withdrawn after midnight Sunday 4 November, 2018.
14. The winning entry will be unique to the 125th Anniversary of Women's Suffrage celebrations and is not related to the Office for Women logo.
15. The winning entrant will be required to collaborate with the Office for Women team and DHS visual communications team. Collaboration will include:
 - Sending original electronic graphics file/s.
 - Allowing modifications to be made to the winning design/s.
 - Approving final design of the final graphic.
16. By agreeing to these conditions, the winning entrant gives Office for Women permission to manipulate the graphic, and elements of the graphic thereof, for use on collateral to promote the 125th Anniversary of Women's Suffrage, including but not limited to the Office for Women website, social media, digital and print media. Due to time constraints, the winning entrant will not be able to approve individual item designs.
17. The Office for Women reserve the right, (including beyond 2018), to use the graphic extensively and exclusively on promotional materials, on additional products and make use of the graphic in perpetuity for promotional purposes at its discretion and without fees or expenses being paid.
18. The Office for Women are not obliged to use any of the images entered into this competition.
19. The Office for Women will assume no rights to the use of unsuccessful entries.
20. The winning entrant will be subsequently provided with an agreement including the above terms and conditions and negotiating the license.
21. The image will be credited to the winner's name on the Office for Women website and social media accounts.
- 22. By submitting your entry to this competition, you certify that you;
 - agree with the terms and conditions
 - are the original and sole holder of the copyright to the image/s that you submit
 - have the authority to license the usage of the image to the Office for Women.